Solos for the Alto Saxophone Player: With Piano Accompaniment Philadelphia : Musicdata

Aria for Winds is based on Glen Gillis' earlier composition, "Nicole's Aria" for alto saxophone and piano---dedicated to his daughter shortly after she was born. In the Aeolian mode, this piece incorporates some subtle dissonances within a hollow open 5th harmony. Haunting melodic lines combined with colorful percussion writing make this a terrific concert or contest piece.

Lois Kuyper-Rushing's Thematic Index of Works by Eugene Bozza addresses a longstanding need to offer a comprehensive view of the composer's oeuvre. Organized by work and thoroughly indexed, this book offers a unique view of the composer and his works. The individual entries include details about each piece, along with publication data and music examples to confirm the content. The result is the fullest assessment of Bozza's efforts, since it covers all the published works and also music the composer left in manuscript. This unique volume, which includes an introduction to Bozza's life and music, as well as several indexes, is the essential reference on this important French, twentieth-century composer. It belongs both in reference collections and in the hands of researchers and performers.

Universal Method for Saxophone Alfred Music

Nicole's Aria was written for the daughter of the composer. The piece is modal, based on an aeolian scale, sometimes referred to as a natural or pure minor scale. The composer wrote in a minor mode trying to fill the void of minor-keyed songs for this age as most children's songs are in major keys. This is beautiful writing for a developing alto saxophone player with piano accompaniment.
