L'edizione e-book 2015 della Liturgia delle ore - Tomo II è conforme alla versione originale integrale della Libreria Editrice Vaticana (copyright 1989 - Ristampa 2011 - Invariata ristampa 2013). Riguarda il Tempo di Quaresima. Triduo Pasquale. Tempo di Pasqua. Con la Liturgia delle Ore, celebrata, per antica consuetudine, nelle varie parti del giorno, la Chiesa adempie il comando del Signore di pregare incessantemente, dà lode a Dio Padre e intercede per la salvezza del mondo....(dal Decreto del Card. Prefetto A. Tabera 11 Apr. 1971). Il canto di lode, che risuona eternamente nelle sedi celesti, e che Gesù Cristo Sommo Sacerdote introdusse in questa terra di esilio, la Chiesa lo ha conservato con costanza e fedeltà nel corso di tanti secoli e lo ha arricchito di una mirabile varietà di forme. La Liturgia delle Ore, infatti, si è sviluppata a poco a poco in modo da divenire la preghiera della Chiesa locale. Essa si svolgeva in tempi e luoghi stabiliti, sotto la presidenza del sacerdote. Era come una indispensabile integrazione di ciò che costituisce la sintesi di tutto il culto divino, cioè del sacrificio eucaristico, la cui straordinaria ricchezza faceva rifluire ed estendeva ad ogni ora della vita umana... (dalla Costituzione Apostolica di Paolo VI - 1° Nov. 1970 - riportata nel tomo I della Liturgia delle Ore).

Enchantment and Creed in the Hymns of Ambrose of Milan offers the first critical overview of the hymns of Ambrose of Milan in the context of fourth-century doctrinal song and Ambrose's own catechetical preaching. Brian P. Dunkle, SJ, argues that these settings inform the interpretation of Ambrose's hymnodic project. The hymns employ sophisticated poetic techniques to foster a pro-Nicene sensitivity in the bishop's embattled congregation. After a summary presentation of early Christian hymnody, with special attention to Ambrose's Latin predecessors, Dunkle describes the mystagogical function of fourth-century songs. He examines Ambrose's sermons, especially his catechetical and mystagogical works, for preached parallels to this hymnodic effort. Close reading of Ambrose's hymnodic corpus constitutes the bulk of the study. Dunkle corroborates his findings through a treatment of early Ambrosian imitations, especially the poetry of Prudentius. These early readers amplify the hymnodic features that Dunkle identifies as "enchanting," that is, enlightening the "eyes of faith."

The "Handbook for Liturgical Studies" provides a complete course of liturgical studies in five volumes. It is offered as a model, source, and reference for students of liturgy and liturgical ministry. Through the study of these five volumes, readers are led to an active and spiritually fruitful participation in the ecclesial celebration of Christ's mystery desired by the Second Vatican Council. Childhood in African Literature Edizioni Nuova Cultura

GESÙ spesso si ritirava nel deserto, o sul monte a pregare, alzandosi presto al mattino o passando la notte in preghiera. Questo comportamento non passò inosservato, agli Apostoli che, continuamente, dicevano: "Signore insegnaci a pregare", richiamando il comando del Signore sulla necessità di una preghiera perseverante per essere in comunione con Dio e per santificarsi. Gli Apostoli si riunivano per la preghiera all'ora di terza. Lo stesso Pietro "salì verso mezzogiorno sulla terrazza a pregare"; allo stesso modo "Pietro e Giovanni salivano al tempio per la preghiera verso le tre del pomeriggio".... Il Breviario, o Liturgia delle ore, è la preghiera per mezzo di, con e in Cristo. L'unione con Gesù è resa possibile solo ed esclusivamente dall'appartenenza al suo Corpo Mistico: la Chiesa ! Infatti, chi ha ricevuto i Sacramenti dell'iniziazione cristiana diventa partecipe del sacerdozio di Cristo e quindi anche della sua continua preghiera. In questo senso Cristo è presente e opera la salvezza non solo durante la Celebrazione del Santo Sacrificio dell'Altare, ma anche nella preghiera della Liturgia delle Ore (Breviario) che è la preghiera ufficiale della chiesa. Il suo nome indica che non si tratta di un atto privato o individuale, ma di un "atto liturgico", ovvero qualcosa che riguarda tutta la Chiesa, Clero e fedeli; perciò appartiene a tutti i suoi membri. La preghiera rappresenta un diritto e un dovere di ogni battezzato. Il richiamo alle Ore ci aiuta a capire che lo scopo primario di questa azione liturgica è la santificazione della giornata e del tempo. Infatti, santificare le "Ore" significa santificare la vita per renderla vita divina.

Claudio Monteverdi is one of the most important figures of 'early' music, a composer whose music speaks powerfully and directly to modern audiences. This book, first published in 2007, provides an authoritative treatment of Monteverdi and his music, complementing Paolo Fabbri's standard biography of the composer. Written by leading specialists in the field, it is aimed at students, performers and music-lovers in general and adds significantly to our understanding of Monteverdi's music, his life, and the contexts in which he worked. Chapters offering overviews of his output of sacred, secular and dramatic music are complemented by 'intermedi', in which contributors examine individual works, or sections of works in detail. The book draws extensively on Monteverdi's letters and includes a select discography/videography and a complete list of Monteverdi's works together with an index of first lines and titles.

Chupungco, OSB; and "Liturgical Law," by Frederick R. McManus. More than forty authors from Asia, Africa, Latin America, North America, and Eastern and Western Europe have contributed to the Handbook. Many are professors and graduates of the Pontifical Liturgical Institute in Rome. Each author, while drawing material from liturgical tradition and from ancient, medieval, and modern sources, writes also from a particular research and personal interest in a subject. Although diverse in style, the authors collectively express a spirit of fidelity to the Church, to its doctrine and tradition, and to its mission. The result is a cohesive view of the meaning, purpose, and celebration of Christian worship. Anscar J. Chupungco, OSB, is the director of the Paul VI Institute of Liturgy in the Philippines and professor of liturgical inculturation at the Pontifical Liturgical Institute in Rome. Among his publications are Liturgies of the Future: The Process and Methods of Inculturation and Liturgical Inculturation: Sacraments, Religiosity, and Catechesis, published by The Liturgical Press. This book centers on a Greek text that was likely compiled in Constantinople, in 1105, for use in one of the monasteries located there. The book is a liturgical psalter, containing the fixed structure (the ordinary) in both the Greek original and in English translation, as well as a description of the hours themselves. The extensive commentary explains the development of the monastic office, and the particular history of the translated manuscript, while brief notes clarify and explain, in a way suitable for non-liturgists, the more-technical aspects of the offices.

L'opera fa il punto sull'ecclesiologia contemporanea a partire dalle istanze conciliari, scegliendo come prospettiva di osservazione privilegiata il lavoro di riflessione sviluppato da Cettina Militello.

Analizzando le diverse articolazioni ecclesiologiche, presenti nella produzione della Militello, l'opera si propone l'obiettivo di offrire ragioni teologiche e metodologiche per la strutturazione di un trattato di ecclesiologia dal Vaticano II, proprio nel pieno 50° anniversario dalla firma delle maggiori Costituzioni Conciliari. The origins and development of the Divine Office are traced through both Eastern and Western branches of the Church, providing a wealth of historical and liturgical information. From the small beginnings of a few Christians in New Testament Jerusalem, the prayer of the Church spread, changing and evolving as it met and was assimilated by different cultures. This classic study is a major resource for the liturgical scholar.

"African authors have consistently returned to childhood to find their personal as well as their racial roots. Far from being merely nostalgic yearnings for a lost paradise, many of the treatments of childhood as shown in articles in this issue have exposed a grim reality of cruelty, harshness, parental (particularly paternal) egocentrism and extraordinary bruising of the vulnerable child psyche. Camara Laye may have portrayed a paradise state but Yvonne Vera has treated one of the cruelest features of childhood anywhere. African authors generally have been sternly responsible in their portrayal of childhood." -- Publisher's description

La preghiera è fondamentale per il cristiano, ma la preghiera del prete ha qualcosa di diverso, di proprio. A partire dalla propria esperienza di vescovo con competenza sui seminari e le università, Juan María Uriarte riflette sull'importanza della vita orante e propone ai sacerdoti e ai seminaristi spunti per approfondire la preghiera e per comprendere la spiritualità specifica del prete diocesano.

The Handbook for Liturgical Studies provides a complete course of liturgical studies in five volumes. It is offered as a model, source, and reference for students of liturgy and liturgical ministry. The Handbook for Liturgical Studies is marked by a number of traits which differentiate it from its predecessor Anamnesis, published by the Pontifical Liturgical Institute. First, the subjects in the liturgical ordo, history, and tradition are examined as sources and components of the theology of liturgy. Next, the Handbook pays significant attention to the role played by the human sciences in the liturgy (psychology, anthropology, linguistics, and the arts.) Pastoral and spiritual considerations receive appropriate treatment in light of liturgical principles, and general models based on the meaning and purpose of the liturgy are suggested. The materials of the East and the non-Roman West are integrated with the Roman, providing a comprehensive vision of Christian worship. More than forty authors from Asia, Africa, Latin America, North America, and Eastern and Western Europe have contributed to the Handbook. Many are professors and graduates of the Pontifical Liturgical Institute in Rome. Each author, while drawing material from liturgical tradition and from ancient, medieval, and modern sources, writes also from a particular research and personal interest in a subject. Although diverse in style, the authors collectively express a spirit of fidelity to the Church, to its doctrine and tradition, and to its mission. The result is a cohesive view of the meaning, purpose, and celebration of Christian worship. The editor's goal through these volumes is for students to pay particular attention to the gradual unfolding of the material from Volume I to Volume V as well as to the methodology, historical setting, theological and spiritual doctrines, and the pastoral concerns in the Handbook. Through the study of these volumes, readers are led not only to a scientific understanding of the liturgy but also to an active and spiritually fruitful participation in the ecclesial celebration of Christ's mystery desired by the Second Vatican Council.

Volume IV: Sacraments and Sacramentals contributes to a deeper understanding of the nature and purpose of sacraments and sacramentals and leads the reader to a more critical appreciation of Vatican II decrees and what the postconciliar reform has implemented. This fourth volume in the Handbook for Liturgical Studies series opens with a review of the basic liturgical notion of sacraments and sacramentals and then examines them according to their earliest known form going back to the first four centuries. After the fourth century the treatment is divided between the East and the West. Where opportune, as in the case of confirmation, questions are raised about pastoral implications of the postconciliar reform. Articles and their contributors are ?Christian Initiation During the First Four Centuries,? by Adrien Nocent, O.S.B.; ?Christian Initiation in the East,? by Stefano Parenti; ?Christian Initiation in the Roman Church from the Fifth Century Until Vatican II,? by Adrien Nocent, O.S.B.; ?Reconciliation in the First Four Centuries,? by Antonio Santantoni; ?Reconciliation in the Eastern Churches,? by Nicola Bux; ?Reconciliation in Rome and the Non-Roman West,? by Antonio Santantoni; ?Anointing of the Sick During the First Four Centuries,? by Stefano Parenti; ?Care and Anointing of the Sick in the East,? by Stefano Parenti; ?The Anointing of the Sick in the West,? by Philippe Rouillard, O.S.B.; ?Orders and Ministries in the First Four Centuries,? by Antonio Santantoni; ?Ordinations in the East,? by Stefano Parenti; ?Ordination and Ministries in the West,? by Antonio Santantoni; ?The Christian Rite of Marriage in the East,? by Stefano Parenti; ?The Christian Rite of Marriage in the West,? by Adrien Nocent, O.S.B.;

?Monastic Profession in the East,? by Manel Nin, O.S.B.; ?Rite of Religious Profession in the West,? by Matias Aug., C.M.F.; ?The Rite of Consecration of Virgins,? by Nichola Emsley, O.S.B.; ?Funeral Rites in the East,? by Elena Velkova Velkovska; ?Funeral Rites in Rome and the Non-Roman West,? by Vincent Owusu, S.V.D.; ?Blessings in the East,? by Elena Velkova Velkovska; and ?Blessings in Rome and the Non-Roman West,? by Renier Kaczynski. The Divine Office--the cycle of daily worship other than the Mass--is the richest source of liturgical texts and music from the Latin Middle Ages. However, its richness, the great diversity of its manuscripts, and its many variations from community to community have made it difficult to study, and it remains largely unexplored terrain. This volume is a practical guide to the Divine Office for students and scholars throughout the field of medieval studies. The book surveys the many questions related to the Office and presents the leading analytical tools and research methods now used in the field. Beginning with the Office in the early Middle Ages, the book covers manuscript sources and their contents; regional developments and variations; the relationship between the Office, the Mass, and other ceremonies and repertoires; and the deep links between the Office and medieval hagiography. The book concludes with a discussion of recent technical advances for handling the enormous amounts of evidence on the Office and its performance, in particular CANTUS, the vast electronic database developed by Ruth Steiner of Catholic University for the analysis of chant repertories. The Divine Office in the Latin Middle Ages is an essential resource for anyone studying medieval liturgy. Its accessible style and broad coverage make it an important basic reference for a wide range of students and scholars in art history, religious studies, social history, literature, musicology, and theology.
