The Oxford Dictionary of American Art & Artists Artabras
The family residence is the backbone of the American economy, the most valuable and enduring asset for those who have achieved a financial foothold. Yet today record numbers of households confront foreclosure. In the next year it is estimated that over two million Americans will lose their homes and almost two billion dollars of wealth will disappear in the process. How did the traditional "American Dream" morph into a nightmare for so many? Real estate attorney and educator Shari B. Olefson, a recognized expert in the current mortgage crisis and its effects on homeowners, explains how America slipped to the edge of this dangerous stagnation-recession precipice. In plain language that is easily understandable to the average person, she clarifies legal and financial terminology and describes how our country's mortgage system really works. Utilizing real-life lender and borrower interviews, she exposes its intrinsic flaws and often discriminatory practices, from the mortgage application process to the securitization of bundled mortgages by large investment firms. She also provides evidence to show the government's and Wall Street's roles in both causing and solving the problem. Above all, Olefson offers expert tips, tools, and resources to help you:

- Choose a mortgage professional and understand what's motivating him or her
- Decide what mortgage product fits best and when to refinance
- Get the best fees, interest rate, and service
- Create your own solutions for navigating the credit crunch
- Know what to do when you can't afford your mortgage

Protect your home if you are at risk of foreclosure • Understand how to proceed if you are already in foreclosure • Capitalize on emerging opportunities and avoid the scams and mortgage fraud • Prepare for coming changes Foreclosure Nation demystifies the real estate bubble and the subprime mortgage crises that followed. With bold, clear visuals like inventory, absorption, and price trend graphs, Olefson pinpoints exactly when and why experts are predicting a recovery. She also cites statistics that strongly suggest the number of foreclosures will surge in the fall of 2008 and again in 2009, with increased reverberations felt throughout the US and global economies. Foreclosure Nation will prove indispensable to explaining what is happening and guiding readers through. Whether you are planning on buying your first home, struggling to meet your current mortgage payments, facing foreclosure, or wondering how your investments will be affected, this comprehensive book will assuage the fear of the unknown, empowering you to make wise choices and protect your most valuable assets.

Looking at a work of art, like listening to music, becomes a rewarding experience only if the senses are alert to the qualities of the work and to the artist's purpose that brought them into being. The language of sculpture must be learned. In this in-depth study, readers examine the materials, tools, methods, styles, and practices that are involved in sculpting and many of the techniques that have been used by accomplished artists who have contributed to sculpture as a fine art, from the marble gods of Phidias to the mobiles by Alexander Calder.

Out of My Mind Encyclopaedia Britannica

Nathaniel Hawthorne and Edgar Allan Poe were masters of mystery and fantasy, but they also engaged real controversies surrounding individual health, health care practice, and biomedical research in nineteenth-century America. During this volatile era, when mesmerists, phrenologists, and other pseudoscientists reigned and "regular" physicians were just beginning to consolidate power, Hawthorne and Poe provided important critiques of experimental and often haphazard systems of care, as well as insights into the evolving understanding of mental and physical pathologies. As writers, they responded to the social, historical, and medical forces of their own time, yet they also addressed themes of bioethics, humanism, and patient-centered care that remain relevant in the twenty-first century. Mysterious Medicine is the first anthology to bring together Hawthorne's and Poe's doctor-scientist tales along with thought-provoking introductions and discussion questions that make the anthology suitable for classrooms, book clubs, and individual readers. Every reader will discover new dimensions to classic tales like Hawthorne's "Rappaccini's Daughter" or Poe's "The Fall of the House of Usher" while also exploring lesser-known works like Hawthorne's "Dr. Bullivant" and Poe's "The Facts in the Case of M. Valdemar." As one would expect of America's dark romantics, the tales feature gothic elements such as crumbling mansions, chaotic madhouses, and pathological killers. They also include medical horrors like premature burial, plague, and poisonings at the hands of quacks, conveying the anxiety Americans felt about unethical experimentation, misunderstood diseases, and the rise of body snatching for anatomical study. Complementary text by L. Kerr Dunn helps situate each tale within the context of nineteenth-century medicine and draws parallels to health-related issues with which we struggle today.

Dreaming with Animals is the first children's biography of celebrated sculptor and Brookgreen Gardens cofounder Anna Hyatt Huntington. Her remarkable life serves as an inspiration not only because of the greatness of her art but also because of her courage and perseverance. L. Kerr Dunn highlights how Anna overcame society's expectations of women and survived a life-threatening illness to become a prolific sculptor and an important benefactor of art and wildlife until her death at age ninety-seven. As a young woman, Anna moved to New York City at a time when American women of her class rarely lived alone or worked outside the home. Although she studied briefly under famous sculptors, she soon felt restless and left art school and began to teach herself to sculpt animals by watching them closely, trying to see the animal's true spirit and then representing that spirit in her work. Over time Anna established herself as an important animalier, an artist specializing in realistic portrayals of animals. By 1915 she was one of only ten American women artists earning enough money from the sales of her art to support herself. Later, with her husband, Archer Huntington, Anna founded South Carolina sculpture garden and wildlife preserve Brookgreen Gardens, the country's first public sculpture garden and the world's largest collection of figurative sculpture by American artists in an outdoor setting. This biography provides engaging details of Anna's life, such as her tendency as a child to lie in pastures studying horses; her travels around the country with her husband in a trailer full of monkeys, dogs, and birds; and the couple's purchase of a zoo. In Dreaming with Animals, Dunn has provided us with an affecting portrait of a strong, capable, talented, and innovative woman Robin R. Salmon, vice president for collections and curator of sculpture at Brookgreen Gardens, provides a foreword.

Dovendo introdurre la figura artistica di Albino Manca viene spontaneo pronunciare la locuzione latina Nemo propheta in patria. La storia di questo artista sardo inizia in un piccolo centro dell'Ogliastra, Tertenia. Come per tutti i gli artisti vissuti nel ventesimo secolo, il giovane, mostrando grande talento artistico, giunge a Roma dove debutta nel cantiere del Vittoriano e quindi all'Istituto di Belle Arti, sotto la guida dei grandi maestri Ettore Ferrari, Angelo Zanelli e Pietro Canonica. Il vero e massimo riconoscimento ufficiale però lo ottiene negli Stati Uniti d'America. Qui, da emigrato si trasferisce nel 1938, vivendo fino al 1976, anno della sua morte, nel Greenwich Village di New York, il quartiere degli artisti. Accettato all'interno di importanti associazioni di artisti e partecipando ai concorsi nazionali, lo scultore è riconosciuto come l'Italian artist. Attento osservatore della psicologia umana che affiora dall'animo di ogni soggetto rappresentato, le sue opere sono l'espressione di un'equilibrata sintesi tra il bello ed il razionale, tra il creare ed il costruire tra l'essere e il divenire. Tra committenze pubbliche e raffinati lavori di oreficeria, Manca vince infine la gara che gli darà l'occasione per entrare nell'élite artistica statunitense: la realizzazione della gigantesca The Diving Eagle che sovrasta il Memorial Battery Park ai caduti nell'Atlantico, l'opera che sorge proprio sull'estremità di Manhattan, in riva all'Hudson, di fronte alla Statua della Libertà. Con una ricchissima selezione di opere tra sculture, gioielli, medaglie e disegni e, ricostruendo per la prima volta la sua straordinaria vicenda artistica, oggi la città di Roma rende omaggio a questo artista commemorando il suo "ritorno" al

Complesso Monumentale del Vittoriano, dove la sua carriera è iniziata. A cura di Giuliana Altea e Caterina Virdis.
